Introduction

Over time during the process of teaching my Portuguese students, I saw the need to create smart shortcuts so my students could develop their Portuguese skills better and reach their goals faster and more effectively. So I've created a list with essential website links, a Guide or Tools to be used when studying alone or after our lessons.

This strategy really has proved to be useful throughout the process of studying. It's actually more than useful, I consider it essential for your success. It is a path that if you follow as a guide it surely will make all the difference from now on in your Portuguese studies. You will see!

First, It is crucial that you have these links saved on your bookmarks or tool bar. Create a folder just for these internet pages I am giving you here so you have them at hand. Your progress will greatly depend on this ability to switch between these links according to your need at homework moment. These "screen guides" should be open at the same time on your browser. This makes your study practical, it optimizes time, it gets dynamic, it makes it much more fun and effective. By following this you end up learning much more. In addition, you learn to be in control of your studies and by having the right tools at hand it all flows naturally in a light and productive way.

In addition, I have prepared a list of best practices for working with audio and video content. Just follow the steps and check the results. I hope you like and enjoy it! Divirta-se!!
